

ALICE JOYCE, FILM STAR, AND
JAMES B. REGAN, JR., MARRIEDSon of Knickerbocker Hotel
Proprietor Marries Screen
Actress.

In the Church of the Holy Innocents yesterday morning Miss Alice Joyce, a motion picture star, was married to Mr. James B. Regan, Jr., only son of Mr. James B. Regan, proprietor of the Knickerbocker Hotel, and Mrs. Regan. News of the wedding came as a complete surprise, for no announcement of the engagement had been made. Not so much as an inkling of the fact that the popular screen star was contemplating a romance in real life had reached theatrical and picture circles, and few knew even that she and Mr. Regan were friends. After the ceremony the bridegroom's father made it known that he will pass on to his son the management of the Knickerbocker, the young man having left the army after a commendable war record to enter the hotel business, in which his father has been successful for years.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Lynch, pastor of the church, and the only witness was the father of the bridegroom, who was the father of the bridegroom. The bride wore a traveling costume of mauve cloth with hat to correspond and a corsage bouquet of orchids. After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the Knickerbocker.

Mr. Regan was graduated from Yale in 1915 and at an outbreak of the war joined the English army, serving eight months in the transportation department, but as soon as the United States entered he volunteered with the American forces and after the tank corps as a private, rising to the rank of first lieutenant. 30 LOCKED OUT OF
BOSTON SYMPHONY

They Insisted on Reinstatement of Concert Master.

Boston, March 6.—About thirty members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, in pursuance of their decision to refuse to play unless the management reinstated Frederic Fradkin, the concert master who was dismissed last night for failure to respond to a signal from Conductor Pierre Monteux, did not take their seats for to-night's concert.

Frederic Fradkin, president of the board of trustees of the orchestra, told a committee of the orchestra before the concert that Fradkin would not be reinstated. When they informed him that one-quarter of the orchestra's membership would not join in the evening's performance, he announced a change in the selections to be played, whereby the concert was enabled to proceed without them.

Fradkin appeared at Symphony Hall before the concert but he would not be allowed to take part.
